Sass Partials

Sass partials are files that end in `.scss` and are used to organize your CSS. They are imported into a main file using the `@import` directive. For example, if you have a partial named `_colors.scss`, you can import it into `main.scss` like this:

@import "_colors";

The underscore at the beginning of the filename indicates that it is a partial. The `@import` directive is used to include the styles defined in the partial into the main file.

Sass Partial Syntax

_filename;
```

```
( "_colors.scss" partial Sass "colors.css" ):
```

"_colors.scss":

$myPink: #EE82EE;
$myBlue: #4169E1;
$myGreen: #8FBC8F;
```
